Principal's Message

MR. G. M. NEWFIELD

Volumes have been written about the value of education in acquiring the qualities of leadership, wisdom, prestige, self-confidence, and so forth. These are desirable attributes but there are other compelling arguments in favor of young people obtaining all the education they can possibly get.

In the first place, education is the key that opens the door to jobs. This is true right now, and, with every passing year of technological development, it becomes even more true. Nowadays no young person can afford not to have a sound education.

Secondly, the more schooling you have, the quicker you will be able to find a job and the better will be your chance of keeping it. The poorly-educated worker is usually forced into occupations where workers are often laid off and in which there are more people looking for jobs than there are jobs to be filled. The graduate from high school or technical school has a clear advantage over the person with less training in the competition for available jobs.

Thirdly, the best jobs are those that offer the widest opportunities for the employee. But the best jobs are not easy to get. Top-notch employers want top-notch recruits who can be trained and developed for positions of leadership and responsibility.

Will you be able to present the employer with a school record that shows you have initiative, work hard, and have a lively interest in what you are doing? Will you be able to show him evidence that you have what it takes to become a valuable employee?

To do your best in your future job, you must do your best now. Make the most of your schooling. Learn all you can. You will find that, at some time during your working life, you will use all you have learned. The farther you advance in your working life, the more often you will need your education.

Will you have to take a back seat when the good jobs are going round? Will you lose out on a promotion because you haven't enough schooling? Will you regret that you are not able to do a job because you don't know enough? Or will you be ready to meet the challenge by making the most of your school life? There are no limits to what you can do, when you have a good education. Remember, education is achievement. It's smart to stay in school or college until you have realized your potential.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Front Row: O. Goening, M. McGregor, B. Wong, S. Krupa, Mr. Romanow, R. Hutchinson, J. Morin, M. Hearu.

Back Row: R. Finck, R. Wawrin, P. Hurd, Gogola, A. Kolsnyk.

The Student Council is made up of thirteen members from Grades 7, 8 and 9 with Mr. Romanow as presiding chairman. The Grade 9 councillors take turns in conducting the meetings.

The Student Council does various jobs around the school. One of them is planning programs for the canteens. Another job is attaining the much-needed advertisements for the school yearbook.

CHOIR

CHOIRS

Hugh John students, under Miss Jones, formed three choirs this term. Here is a little information about each:

Immigration Service Choir

At the Immigration Offices of Winnipeg, a choir of about thirty girls went down on a Wednesday to sing "Oh Canada" and "God Save The Queen" for the people becoming citizens of Canada. The girls also sang a song of their own choosing.

School Festival Choir

This year Hugh John held its own festival in May. In order to perform at the school's festival the choir was not able to enter the city's Music Festival. During the months of March and April the choir practised their selections.

The choir this year was formed from members of last year's choir still attending the school and other students chosen or wanting to enter the choir. A practice was held every day 2, in the activity period, in Room 16.

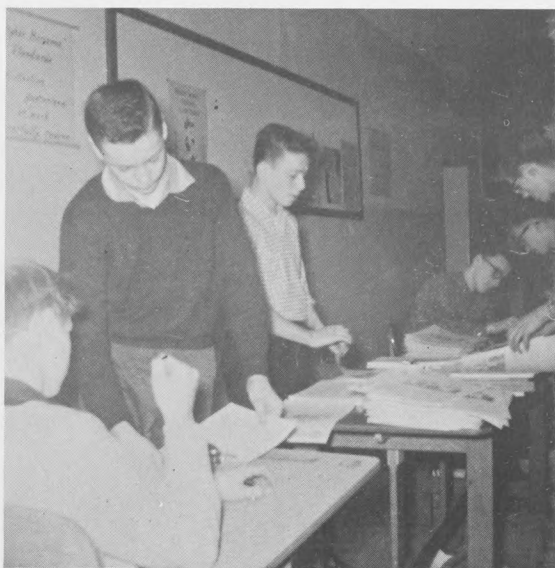

The choir performed before parents, friends, previous students of the school and the teachers of theirs and many other schools every evening and afternoon.

Graduation Choir

After Easter exams, the school Graduation Choir was formed. The girls practised frequently during lunch hours and after four. In June, at the closing exercises, the choir sang two lovely selections. Along with the speeches and the presentation of awards, the choir helped to make it a memorable event for seniors of Hugh John Macdonald.

On behalf of all the girls in the choirs I would like to thank Miss Jones for again forming a choir and teaching these and other songs to us and for giving up her valuable time, making it possible for us to have taken part in these activities. Thank you, Miss Jones. We really enjoyed ourselves!

The School Newspaper

THE HUGH JOHN NEWS

The Hugh John News began in the school term of 1959-60 under the direction of Mr. McGlenen.

The staff this year was as follows:

Honorary Editor	— Mr. G. Newfield
Staff Representative	— Mr. E. McGlenen
Typing	— Mrs. McIvor
Editor	— John Kosowski
Assistant Editor	— Evelyn Wakaruk
Boys' Sports	— Peter Finck
Girls' Sports	— Joan Eliasson
Fashions	— Alexis Kehler
Humor	— Sandra Krupa
Movies and TV	— Goerge Buri
Clubs	— Karen Drozda
Business Manager	— Allan Palmer
Circulation	— Arthur Shibuya
Art	— Romolo Fantini

To encourage students from different rooms to participate in writing articles, much of the money was turned back to the students as one-dollar prizes.

With the money saved, another painting was purchased for the school as a memoir of the students of the 1962-63 term. A much-needed Gestetner Scope was also presented to the school by the Hugh John News staff. The purchasing of the paintings and the Gestetner Scope were made possible by the support of our students in contributing their nickels to our school paper.

On behalf of the students and the staff I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. McGlenen for giving up much of his valuable time to help make the Hugh John News a great success.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

1962 - 1963

Mr. Newfield, Mr. Romanow, honored guests, teachers, parents, and fellow-students. I want to assure you that I consider it a pleasure and indeed an honor to have been asked to speak to you on behalf of the Grade Nine graduates on this occasion. To the entire staff of Hugh John Macdonald and all those who are part of this Institution, we wish to give our heartfelt thanks for the training we have acquired here. The three years we have spent here seem to have passed so soon, and yet, they have been packed full with pleasant memories — memories that we will always cherish. We do hope that our instructors will pardon all our short-comings. We thank them for the kind tolerance they showed while we sometimes enjoyed ourselves a bit with things that didn't exactly pertain to our studies. We also wish to thank our parents who share our sorrows and our joys, praising us when we succeed and encouraging us when we fail.

Learning is like a journey. First, as pre-school children, we spend a few years at home, growing, exploring, and smothering our parents with oodles of questions. Then we are sent to Kindergarten and Elementary School where we continue our exciting life of growing and getting a further education. Those years were full of thrills and challenges that we will always remember. As time went on, we started to look forward to the big day when we would enter Junior High. We admired those who went before us. They seemed so grown up and confident in their school work and in their decisions.

Believe it or not — here we are today — already looking back and wondering where the time has gone. We do hope that in some way our lives have been an inspiration to the younger students who no doubt watched us as we had admired others.

Now, as we are standing on the threshold of greater challenges, we are looking forward with anticipation to the day we will enter Senior High. We know that we will miss Mr. Newfield, Mr. Romanow, and all the fine teachers who have worked so hard to interest us in seeking "Higher Horizons."

We know that we will miss all the wonderful activities such as concerts, teas, parties, school choirs, and different student activities, but the time has come to march on. Our much-loved Grade Nine is breaking up. Some, perhaps, are taking employment, while most are planning to go to different schools for further training. Regardless of what each decides to do, all of us I am sure, plan on being of some good use to our country. We all join in wishing each and every one success and the best.

To you, the Grade Eights, who will be occupying our class rooms next year, we give you our best wishes and know that you will do your best to uphold the good name of this school, that we have learned to love and now must leave.

So, in closing, we once more wish to express our thanks and assure the staff that we are grateful for the knowledge we have received here and the fine times you have given to us. With Shakespeare's words, we now leave you: "Farewell, and Standfast."

COUNSELLING

The objectives of the Guidance Counsellors have been to direct the students into various fields of study, ways of living and behaving which will prove most advantageous and rewarding to them. The students are given direction in developing proper study habits and, where necessary, study schedules are drawn up for them weighted in the direction of subject difficulty. In many instances students with particular weakness are given extra help. Those with personal or social problems receive individual attention to assist them in finding a suitable solution. All students are supplied with suggestions and information for future vocations and careers. Above all, every student is regarded as an important individual by the counsellor.

R.C.H.A. BAND CONCERT

On February 11th the R.C.H.A. (Royal Canadian Horse Artillery) military band came to our school to entertain us with their very interesting and rather comical performance.

The concert started with an introduction to the different instruments in the orchestra, from the low-pitched tuba to the high-pitched piccolo.

Lights Out, Cha-Cha Symphony, and Moon River were a few of the excellent arrangements that were played under the direction of Mr. Lee.

We would not only like to thank the R.C.H.A. band for taking the time to entertain us, but also the students of Hugh John Macdonald for their excellent behavior at the concert.

ART APPRECIATION

One of our Higher Horizons projects this year has been to have a series of Travelling Art Displays loaned to us by the Winnipeg Art Gallery. In addition to the displays, one of the members of the gallery has come to the school and lectured the students about these art works.

The displays have ranged over such subjects as Romanesque and Gothic Illuminations, Flower Studies, Canadian Painters, The 19th Century Romantics, Impressionists and so on. Our students enjoyed these displays and we feel sure that they learned a great deal. Our thanks to The Art Gallery and to Miss Adamson.

VINCENT VAN GOGH

Vincent Van Gogh was born in a small town in Holland. At the age of sixteen Vincent was given a job in an art gallery belonging to his rich uncle. Vincent loved pictures, but didn't know how to get along with the customers. He was one soon dismissed from his uncle's gallery because of his crude manners.

His next job found him teaching in a boys' school near London, but Vincent soon became overwhelmed with a desire to become a preacher. He tried with all earnesty to pass exams leading into the ministry, but failed.

He soon left for Belgium in the coal mining country to become a missionary without pay. Vincent in this line of work gave so much of himself that he found himself in rags and hungry when dismissed from the missionaries.

In the fall of 1880 a haggard and somewhat shabby Vincent arrived in Brussels and rented a room in which to start his drawing and painting career. The winter was hard and cold for Vincent, so that in the early spring he went back home to his parents in Etten.

While in Etten, Vincent found great inspiration in drawing pictures of the poor people. He drew a great many pictures of people in the potato fields and one of his greatest works of these people is called the "Potato Diggers."

Vincent left for Prague, and here he found a friend in a poor woman named Christine. She and her little girl were hungry and homeless. Vincent took them in and in turn she cooked and kept house for him, and in time Vincent married Christine.

Vincent left Christine one day and moved to the country. For four years he painted and sketched on the broad moors.

In 1886 Vincent joined his brother in Paris but in 1888 he left again to go to Arles in search of a better life.

In Arles he rented a room and went out into the country and painted colorful paintings of the blossoming trees, of the haying, of ships, and his best friend the Postman, Roulin.

One night a friend found Vincent sitting wearing a bandage around his head. Vincent told his friend that he had cut a piece off his ear, wrapped it in a paper and taken it to a friend in Arles.

January 1889 found Vincent painting madly and eating little. A doctor took Vincent to St. Remey for a rest which was badly needed. While at St. Remey, Theo, the brother of Vincent, sent him four hundred francs. Theo had sold one of Vincent's paintings! Vincent soon grew tired of St. Remey and went to Paris and his brother Theo.

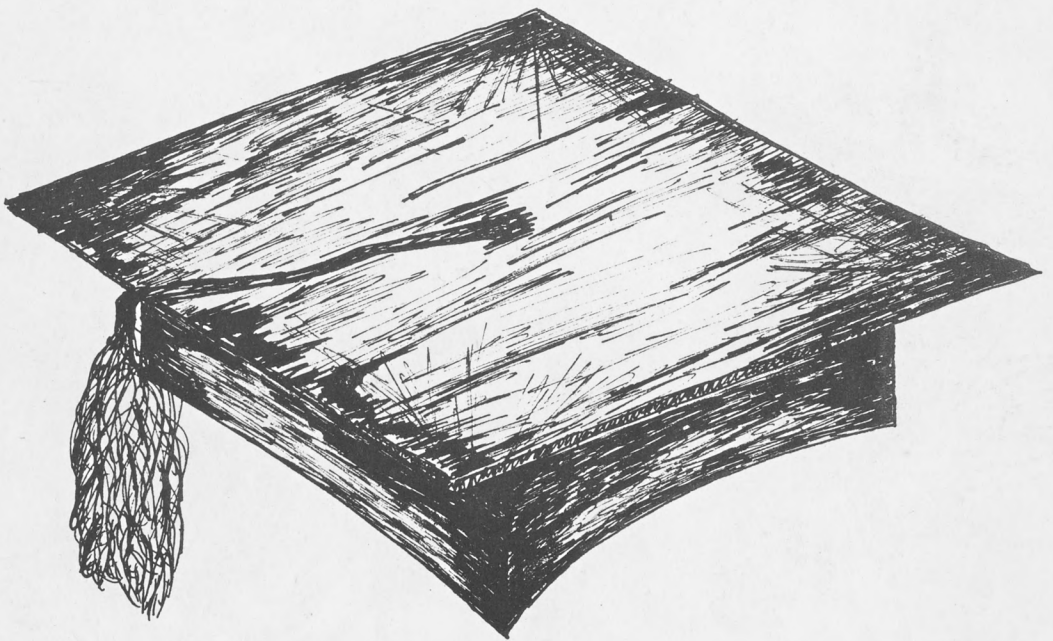

Vincent moved again, this time to Auvers. Here he painted but became very depressed. One day while out painting, Vincent shot himself.

Theo came to Vincent as soon as he heard of his mishap. For two days and nights Theo sat by Vincent's bedside. They often talked of old times. Vincent was buried in a little cemetery in Auvers. Six months later Theo joined his brother in the cemetery in Auvers.

Missing: L. Delore, J. Falk.

Room 20 this year nearly won the class championship. We were exactly one game away from winning the Grade 8 inter-room volleyball. On that particular game we lost by a margin of two points, which was very disappointing. But we still enjoyed playing volleyball.

Grade 8 Room 2

Front Row: C. Herron, S. Woo, D. Harding, P. McKay, V. Teron, S. Anderson, B. Martel, P. Houstin, J. Barron, C. Commodore.

At the beginning of the year our class was in Grade 7. Mr. Power was our home room teacher at that time. In February most of us passed into Grade 8, and Miss Malenchak became our new home room teacher. In the second part of the year we started a spelling derby in our room.

Grade 8 Room 27

Front Row: J. Hrubor, B. Stange, K. Purkard, H. Bouas, L. Gauthier, M. Gauthier, B. Woroniuk, B. Jasin.
Back Row: M. Boyce, M. Bucy, W. Raeburn, J. Scott, R. Harris, L. Tait, R. Glasier, L. Coffyn, G. Stacker.
Missing: D. Davis, E. Thomas, S. Gale, B. Howe.

The boys of R-27 were very happy and proud that they won the volleyball championship crest for the year 1962-63. They owe their thanks to Mr. Fedak for encouraging them.

Many wonderful things were done in the activity period in R-27. Some students brought magazines to school and cut out the articles and pictures that were needed for their Science charts. Some did reading, and others did their homework.

GRADE

Grade 7 Room 25

Seated: G. Scully, L. Lavallee, G. Stroppa, H. Sager, P. MacNamara, E. Weinheimer, G. Sleva, L. Geluck, V. Samboryk.
2nd: H. Matthews, S. Ludkiewich, P. Biyiasas, S. Olbrecht, P. Neal, B. Skubovius, E. Schaefer, J. Hayes.

Absent: P. Mar.

Contributors to the newspaper were G. Stroppa, D. Deegan, Bonnie Wong, Carol Mitchell, Kay Michels and P. McNamara. For both terms there were 11 Gold Star winners, and 10 people have had perfect attendance. Members of the school choir are: Bonnie Wong, Linda Lavallee and Pat Neal. The outstanding athletes are: Bonnie Wong, Lazlo Kaszas, Terry Russell and Mark Petricig, and also 7A boys have reached the semi-finals in inter-class basketball. Bonnie Wong was selected to the student council. The class is also interested in learning about Canadian painters, mainly the Group of Seven.

Grade 7 Room 28

Seated: D. Svenson, H. Martens, N. Driedger, R. Pizey, K. Pratt, R. Mills, E. Miller, S. Choy.

2nd: V. La Carrubba, R. Hirschhorn, G. Boychuk, C. Tetreault, C. Bueti, A. Oprysk, B. MacRae, S. Mailman, K. Gerelus, J. Bell.

Missing: R. Persinovic.

The pupils of Room 13 wrote and performed a play entitled "Queen Hatshepsut's Treasure." The students also have a Clipping Club in which many students supplied interesting articles in booklet form. This year the girls won the Grade 7 inter-room girls' volleyball tournament. Two boys, Robert Hales and John Morrison participated in the Cross-Country Races.

Missing: C. Pearson, J. Smith.

School days have brought us continuous excitement—trying to hear the reasons Gail or Barbara were away a week, trying to convince the teacher he should let us off spelling, trying to get a seat with a view through the door to see the boys and girls go by, trying to think out the meanings of the pictures that Mr. Atwell put on the walls. We didn't put on a play or win any great games, but we enjoyed school because we met our friends and found most classes pleasant.

Grade 7 Room 30

Bottom Row: S. Wright, G. Gale, L. Lussiev, V. Niel, L. Arcand, C. Gasowsky, M. Purhand, H. Kopichanski, J. Gavillo, V. Moar, L. Moore.

Missing: L. Tait.

In our class we have sixteen boys. This year we were emphasizing our school activities around job areas, that is, we chose a job and tried to correlate our school subjects around this particular job. This took us into the field of Arts and Crafts when we did copper tooling, aluminum etching and wallets.

We also had some outstanding athletes in our class. Lindsay Tait and David Normand have played on the school soccer and volleyball teams.

Grade 7 Room 12

Front Row: Z. Lopez, M. Proulx, V. Burton, G. Sereda, V. Shaye, J. Chaboyer, F. Star.

Back Row: M. Hearne, Miss Harder, M. Sanderson.

Room 12 had many activities this year. We went on several tours and usually managed to get free samples. We visited Marvel Beauty School, Old Dutch Chips, Weston's Bakeries and about 5 other places. We were actually paid to see a special film about Perth's Dry Cleaners. We used this money for a picnic.

Grade 7 Room 24

Bottom Row: M. Adam, F. Mosiondz, I. Pereira, D. Chaboyer, R. Bisiak, M. Tandory.
Missing: L. Cushnie, S. Paul.

This class was composed of fifteen girls. During the year they enjoyed going on field trips in connection with their lessons in Occupational Education. Their trips to the Christies Biscuit Factory and to Canada Packers were most memorable.
